

Quality Officer

Company profile:

Our client is a leading supply chain manager in agricultural materials for the feed-, food and fuel industry. Focus is selling grains, soya and co-products to the European compound feed industry. The food, crush, aqua, fuel and starch industry are also amongst our client base.

Our client is working in an international environment. The commodities are bought and distributed in many countries in- and outside Europe. Our client have offices in Germany, England, Spain, Italy, Poland, Ukraine and Hungary and is known to be a supply chain company with a strong customer focus. On annual basis, BAST trades around 32 million metric tons of agricultural materials.

Job profile:

The quality department has an important role in the company. It determines the risks of and control measures for all traded products and performs various checks on the products. As a member of the Quality Department, your job is diverse. You perform all the daily activities related to feed safety assurance. Where necessary you assist other offices. Besides this you'll be in close contact with internal and external parties about various quality related issues.

The Quality officer reports to the Quality Manager BAST.

Job content:

- Risk assessments new and existing flows
- Process internal and external quality related questions and complaints
- Execute internal audits
- Member of the international working group quality
- Assistance in crisis management
- Development of quality procedures and requirements
- Perform quality related audits at service providers

Competences:

- Analytical thinking
- Organized/ accurate
- Team player, initiative to perform group tasks
- Self-starter, assertive
- Customer oriented
- Capacity to quickly respond to changing environment

Education & Experience:

- Bachelor/Master degree level
- Good language skills of English and Dutch, both verbal and written
- Experience with quality systems/ HACCP is preferred
- Knowledge of word, excel and other office programs
- Affinity with the agricultural sector is preferred

They offer:

- The possibility to develop in a rapidly growing international company
- Pleasant and dynamic work environment with short lines and a strong focus on your development
- A fulltime position
- Excellent working conditions (primary and secondary)

Information:

For more information about this position please contact Erik Koldenhof (erik@actgroep.nl) 0031-6-21826582